

The University of Edinburgh was looking for a durable, easy-to-clean bowl with a quality look and feel.

Neil works in a multibuilding operation for the University of Edinburgh. They have a large portfolio of sites across the city with approximately 500 covers per day.

Neil was looking for a product that he could transport cooked or cold meals in and deliver to his diners. The product needed a lid and has to be reusable and recyclable. Reducing disposables was top priority!

Neil chose to use our 1 Litre Amuse bowls. They have a clear lid to show what is inside each bowl. The lid is also spillproof to help maintain food quality and avoid waste during transport, thus reducing cost and disappointed diners. The innovative design also ensures that the bowls easily and securely stack, aiding distribution and storage. The 1 litre size was the perfect portion for his customers.

"The bowls have been brilliant. They are easy to produce food in for large numbers before they are transported out in refrigerated vans. Students can easily see what's in the bowl, which makes service so much quicker. They have performed very well with no issues at all. There has been no staining from sauces and no scratching, fitting my durability requirements.

We offer two gluten free options a day, one of which is vegan. The food looks great in the bowls. Everything looks so fresh and on-trend and the grey colours lend well to the food colours and presentation. I will be reordering more in September."

How does this service work?

Filled bowls are loaded and delivered chilled in vans to the university sites.

Students will eat directly from the bowls. Some heat the food in the microwave before eating and that has worked really well too.

Have any bowls been lost?

Around 5% have disappeared, however, this outweighs the cost of using disposables.

The Harfield Amuse Bowls and Lids are the perfect solution for preparing, storing and on-the-go meals. The 1 litre size (code 691) is great as a salad, pasta and the on-trend buddha bowls.

The airtight lid allows you to keep ingredients fresher for longer and also means you can transport food too.

Both bowl and lid are dishwasher, fridge and freezer safe. The bowl is also microwave safe without the lid.

Also available in 200ml (code 690) and 2 Litres (code 692). Visit www.harfieldtableware.co.uk for more information on this fantastic range.
